SPECIAL DAYS, NINE TWIN BILLS HIGHLIGHT 1970 SCHEDULE

Nine doubleheaders, the most ever on the Giants home schedule, highlight the 1970 Candlestick Park baseball program. In addition seven special days are interspersed throughout the season starting with "600 Day" on Sunday, April 12, which will commemorate Willie Mays' 600th home run with ceremonies in between games of the first doubleheader of the season, against the Cincinnati Reds.

Eight of the twin bills will be played on Sundays, starting at the regular 12 noon time. The remaining doubleheader is a holiday attraction, on Labor Day, September 7, against Cincinnati and starts at 1 p.m.

Promotional days scheduled for youngsters are Bat Day, April 25; Cap Day, May 23; T-Shirt Day, June 13; Helmet Day, July 3; Ball Day, July 18. And the most popular Fan Appreciation Day will be held on Sunday, September 27, the last game of the home season.

NATIONAL LEAGUE STANDINGS—1958-69

	Won	Lost	Pct.	GB
San Francisco Giants	1065	849	.556
Los Angeles Dodgers	1037	880	.541	29½
St. Louis Cardinals	1027	883	.538	36
Milwaukee-Atlanta Braves	1029	885	.537	36
Cincinnati Reds	1010	900	.529	53
Pittsburgh Pirates	1010	901	.529	53½
Philadelphia Phillies	892	1018	.467	171
Chicago Cubs	881	1030	.461	182½
Houston Astros (1962-69)	555	739	.429
New York Mets (1962-69)	494	799	.382

Over their twelve seasons in San Francisco, the Giants have won more games than any team in the major leagues, 1065. Their winning percentage of .556 over the 12 seasons was exactly duplicated in 1969, and it is two points better than the Giants' all-time percentage which is the best in National League history.

Over the past dozen seasons the Giants have scored more victories over the arch rival Dodgers, and the Phillies, 132, than any other team. And only one club, the Braves, holds an edge over San Francisco. The Milwaukee-Atlanta entry has won 125 over San Francisco as opposed by 107 defeats at the hands of the Giants.

Against the Dodgers, San Francisco has won the season series seven times, lost it only twice and in three seasons the two clubs were deadlocked. The Giants' 132-103 record versus Los Angeles represents a .562 percentage, topped only by .583 against Philadelphia among the old line National League clubs. The Giants have percentages of .664 against the Houston Astros and .630 against the New York Mets, the two clubs which entered the league in 1962.

THE MANAGER

CLYDE EDWARD KING

Entering the new decade with renewed optimism, Clyde King's theme will be "New Faces of 1970" as he prepares for his second season as manager of the Giants. Off season trades have brought new talent to the team, and it is young men, with speed and the ability to make things exciting, who will have a chance to make their mark on the National League's Wild West pennant race.

Such youngsters as Steve Whitaker and Jim Gosger, both lefthanded hitting outfielders, infielders Bob Heise and Alan Gallagher and pitcher Frank Reberger are the newcomers to the San Francisco scene. They have major league credentials and their best seasons are ahead of them.

To provide the stage for 1970's San Francisco Giants, Candlestick Park has undergone a great transformation and now features Astroturf, a bright new surface which many feel will necessitate changes in strategy on the field. Manager King believes that the surface will be much faster, causing the baseball to skip through the infield more quickly, and the requirements of speed, particularly in his fielders, will be even greater than usual.

It is to that end, and for the specific purpose of seeking a championship team for San Francisco, that the Giants dealt off a half dozen players on the roster that closed last season for young talent which possesses speed and range in the field.

King did a fantastic job in his first year at the Giants' helm. A strong second place finish in the Western Division race, and the Giants were in contention to the last days, was achieved in spite of injuries which crippled the club and did not allow him to use a set lineup. And it took a 10-game winning streak by the Braves at the close to nip the Giants.

The popular and knowledgeable King will be celebrating his 46th birthday on May 23. He is a native of Goldsboro, N.C., where he still makes his home with wife, Norma and three daughters, Norma 21, Princie 19, and Janet 14. A former University of North Carolina baseball and basketball star, King's best playing seasons in the majors were with the Brooklyn Dodgers from 1944 to 1951. As a relief specialist, he won 14 and lost 7 with six saves for the Dodgers who were defeated in a three-game playoff by the Giants in 1951. His managerial career started in 1955 at Atlanta of the Southern League and took him to Hollywood of the PCL, Columbus and Rochester of the International League and finally Phoenix, the Giants' AAA Pacific Coast League team before his appointment for the 1969 season with San Francisco.

THE COACHES

LAWRENCE JOSEPH JANSEN

Completing a decade as the Giants' pitching coach in 1970, Larry will be faced with a stiff challenge. With the departure of veterans, through trades, the Giants must come up with young talent to fill their spots on the staff. Jansen has worked wonders in the past, creating one of the most effective mound corps in the major leagues and he has some strong, young arms in Rich Robertson, Ron Bryant and Frank Reberger with which to work.

Jansen was a front liner with the New York Giants from 1947 to 1954, and was a member of two pennant winners. As a rookie in 1947 he posted a 21-5 record, and in the Miracle Year of 1951 he equaled Sal Maglie for a club high of 23 victories when he was the pitcher of record in the third playoff game, won by Bobby Thomson's home run, 5-4, over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

OSVALDO JOSEPH VIRGIL

Manager Clyde King entrusted the all-important third base coaching duties to Ozzie in his first season as a major league coach, and he came out with a top grade. Passing along signs and judging the speeds of baserunners against outfield arms were his main responsibilities and he did a bang up job.

Virgil, now 36, ended his playing career, most of it in the Giant system, in 1968, but made a brief appearance on the active roster when injuries and illness cut down the Giant catching corps in August. Originally an infielder, he learned all positions and became a fine utility player during a career that saw him play with the Detroit Tigers, Kansas City A's, Baltimore Orioles and Pittsburgh Pirates as well as the Giants.

WESLEY NOREEN WESTRUM

One of the most respected major league coaches for his knowledge of the game and his cleverness at stealing signs and reading opposing pitchers, Wes has been identified with the Giants for most of his 30-year career in baseball. He was a first stringer in New York for eight seasons, played on two pennant winners and has been a Giant coach since 1958 except for four years with the New York Mets, two and a half seasons of that time as the Mets' manager.

During his playing days he was the top defensive catcher in the game. In 1950 he set an all-time record with a fielding percentage of .999 in 140 games, making only one error in 679 chances. Wes also led the majors by participating in 21 double plays that year.

THE 1970 SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS

BOBBY LEE BONDS

OUTFIELDER. Bats R, Throws R. Born March 15, 1946, in Riverside, California. Height 6-1, Weight 188. Married, two sons. Lives in San Carlos, California.

After his first full season in the majors, Bobby is on the verge of superstardom . . . the complete ballplayer with all the necessary speed, power and arm . . . only flaw has been his many strikeouts, which were a major league record of 186 last season . . . at 23 Bonds became the youngest player, and only the fourth in baseball history to have hit more than 30 homers and stolen 30 or more bases in a season . . . others were Ken Williams, St. Louis Browns in 1922 (39 HR, 37 SB), Willie Mays, Giants, in 1956 (36 HR, 40 SB) and 1957 (35 HR, 38 SB) and Hank Aaron, Braves, in 1963 (44 HR, 31 SB) . . . Bonds hammered 32 homers and swiped 45 bases in 49 tries, the most thefts in a season by a Giant since 1921 when Frankie Frisch stole 49 . . . Bobby also tied with Cincinnati's Pete Rose for the NL lead with 120 runs scored . . . he was the club leader in seven departments overall—games, at bats, runs, hits, triples, stolen bases and strikeouts, and runner-up to Willie McCovey in five others—doubles, homers, RBIs, walks and game-winning hits (13) . . . signed by scout Evo Pusich after a spectacular career as a baseball, basketball, football and track standout at Riverside Polytechnic High School . . . his athletic family also produced a former Olympic sprinter, Rosie, who held the U.S. women's record in the hurdles, and brother Robert, a former professional football linebacker . . . broke into the National League with a memorable grand slam home run off the Dodgers' John Purdin on June 25, 1968, for his first hit . . . that was only the second time in history a player had grand slammed for his first major league hit.

RIGOBERTO FUENTES

INFIELDER. Bats R & L. Throws R. Born, January 4, 1944, in Havana, Cuba. Height 5-11, Weight 175. Lives in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic.

A flashing infielder, fast and quick . . . Tito's play through the closing month of the 1969 season was his best since joining the Giants in 1965 . . . as a leadoff man he boosted his average to .295 with the late season splurge, and this performance establishes him as a strong candidate for the third base post . . . spent part of the 1969 season at Phoenix where he hit .340 in 42 games . . . has been injury prone through his Giant career . . . was signed originally by scout Alex Pompez and has been playing in the Giants' organization since 1962 . . . his switch hitting talents make his running speed an extra asset.

JAMES RAY HART

OUTFIELDER. Bats R, Throws R. Born October 30, 1941, in Lenoir, N.C. Height 5-11. Weight 185. Lives in Daly City, California.

Jim is looking forward to 1970, confident that the season will restore his play to the high level standards of previous years . . . for him 1969 was pretty much a wasted year . . . handicapped by a succession of injuries and illness he played in only 95 games, in twenty-three of them only as a pinch hitter, and his batting average at .254 was the lowest of his Giant career, which began in 1963 . . . underwent treatment in Arizona during the past winter, and reports indicate a return to normal health . . . through all his previous Giant career he was one of the leaders in base hit production and also in the production of home runs . . . at 28 now, he should be, with restored health, at the peak of his career.

FRANK ALFRED LINZY

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born September 15, 1940, in Fort Gibson, Oklahoma. Height 6-1, Weight 190. Married; two daughters. Lives in Broken Arrow, Oklahoma.

A top National League relief specialist through his five seasons with the Giants . . . in 1969 he figured in more winning games than any pitcher on the Giant staff, though serving exclusively in relief roles . . . he won fourteen games himself, a high among relievers, with eleven additional saves . . . his E.R.A. 3.65 was higher than his career average, but it can be charged to a few ineffective innings, always more costly to a short inning relief pitcher . . . has pitched only in the Giants' organization, after being signed by scout J. R. McLean in 1960 . . . pitched his way through the Giants' farm system from Class D to Class AAA before making a place for himself on the Giants' staff in 1965 . . . now one of the Giants' pitching mainstays.

JUAN ANTONIO MARICHAL

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born October 20, 1938, in Laguna Verde, Dominican Republic. Height 6-0, Weight 185. Married; three daughters. Lives in San Francisco, California.

For Juan it was a good season in 1969, for most other pitchers it would have been a great one . . . he was the major leagues' ERA leader at 2.10, led the NL with eight shutouts and entered the 20-win club for the sixth time in his career . . . his 2.57 career ERA is the best among all active starting pitchers and is third best in baseball history behind Walter Johnson (2.37) and Grover Alexander (2.56) . . . his winning percentage is best among all active pitchers at .685 and is second only to Whitey Ford's .690 in history . . . Juan is now second in Giant history with 197 complete games, 45 shutouts and 1840 strikeouts, and third in wins with 191 and innings, 2549 . . . led the club with 27 complete games and 21 wins in 1969 . . . in 1969 he lowered his home run allowance to only 15 in 300 innings . . . selected for his eighth All Star Team . . . had a sensational record in Candlestick with 14 wins in 15 decisions, losing only to San Diego, and an ERA of 1.43 with 13 complete games in 16 starts . . . beat the Western Division champion Atlanta Braves three times in three decisions and also whipped the Dodgers five out of six . . . in the second half of the season he posted a 2.01 ERA . . . in mid-September shut out the Reds on one hit and the Braves in four safeties back to back at home . . . in nine and half seasons Juan has averaged better than 20 wins and 20 complete games per season . . . signed by scouts Horacio Martinez and Alex Pompez . . . Juan is the leader among active pitchers with 45 career shutouts.

WILLIE HOWARD MAYS, JR.

OUTFIELDER. Bats R, Throws R. Born May 6, 1931, in Westfield, Alabama. Height, 5-11, Weight 185. Single. Lives in Atherton, California.

Willie closed out the 1969 season with his 600th career home run in the stretch drive, belting it against San Diego's Mike Corkins on September 22nd, a big hit in that it kept the Giants in first place for another night . . . his great success in the 1960's earned him the designation as Player of the Decade by The Sporting News . . . 1970 will be his 19th playing season in the National League . . . The Greatest Giant Ever, as selected by the fans, is first in Giant history in almost every department except Games, Runs, Doubles, Triples, and RBIs . . . Willie can take over in Runs (he has 1827 to Ott's 1859) this year and also move up in other departments on the all-time leaders . . . Mays is the only player in baseball history to have stolen 300 or more bases (305) and hit more than 300 home runs . . . he has been a super star in the field, at bat and on the bases . . . two MVP (1954 and 1965) Awards, selection to the National League All Star Team for 16 straight seasons and eleven Golden Gloves are testimonial to his complete baseball ability . . . Willie has won the batting title (1954), home run championships (1955, 1962, 1964 and 1965) and five league slugging titles (1954, 1955, 1957, 1964, 1965) . . . his .578 slugging average is a career high in the National League . . . his NL records include most home runs by an outfielder (600); most times two or more home runs in a game (58); most homers in a month (17 in August, 1965) . . . Willie was signed by scouts Eddie Montague and Billy Harris in 1950 after his release had been purchased from the Birmingham Black Barons . . . his .307 career average over 2563 games is third among active players behind Hank Aaron and Roberto Clemente.

WILLIE MAYS' HOME RUN CHART

Last September 22, on a cool night in San Diego Stadium, Willie Mays won another game for the Giants with a home run off righthander Mike Corkins. Pinch hitting in the seventh inning with one man on base, Willie blasted one into the left-centerfield stands for the 600th home run of his extraordinary career.

Mays is only the second player to reach the 600 mark in baseball history. A half dozen others have hit more than 500, and Atlanta's Hank Aaron with 554, is the runner-up to Willie among active players. Third place among those sluggers still playing belongs to Chicago's Mr. Cub, Ernie Banks, who has 497 through the 1969 season.

Mays has hit 306 home runs in his home parks, 180 of them in Candlestick Park. On the road has has whacked 294, 50 of them in Wrigley Field. And he has divided 409 homers against righthanders, 191 against southpaws.

A listing of Mays' 1969 homers, as well as a club-by-club and park-by-park breakdown of all 600 home runs follows.

WILLIE LEE McCOVEY

INFIELDER. Bats L, Throws L. Born January 10, 1938, in Mobile, Alabama. Height 6-4, Weight 210. Single. Lives in San Francisco, California.

The National League's Most Valuable Player in 1969 has truly emerged as the foremost power hitter in baseball . . . the MVP honor only capped his most successful season during which he led the National League in home runs (45), RBIs (126) and slugging percentage (.656) for the second consecutive year . . . Willie became the first National Leaguer to lead in all three departments in consecutive seasons . . . only others to turn that feat are Babe Ruth and Jimmy Foxx . . . he is also only the fifth player in major league history, and the second in the National League, to have led his league in home runs and RBIs in consecutive seasons . . . the others were Ruth, Foxx and Frank Baker in the American League, and Bill Nicholson of the Cubs in the National . . . McCovey scored 101 runs last year to complement his slugging and also led the club in walks with 121 (45 intentional) and game-winning hits (16) . . . Willie hit a pair of grand slam home runs, running his all-time Giant record total to ten . . . also hit a pair of home runs in a game five times and now has a total of 23 such games in his career as well as three other games in which he has slugged three homers . . . his 313 career homers place him third in Giant history behind Mays and Ott and his 859 RBIs are good for fifth on the Giant list . . . his 2449 total bases are 7th among all Giants and his career slugging average of .550 is second only to Mays' .578 . . . McCovey has 528 extra-base hits for fourth place in Giant annals . . . in the All Star Game in Washington, D.C., last July 23, Willie slammed two homers off John Odom of Oakland and Denny McLain of Detroit to lead the Nationals to a 9-3 victory . . . Willie won the Arch Ward Memorial Award as the All Star Game's MVP . . . the best hitting streak for a Giant in 1969 was McCovey's 16-game string from May 23 to June 11 during which he hit .453 (24 for 53) with 11 HRs and 21 RBs . . . in the clutch situations, with men in scoring position, Willie hit .385 and also advanced more than 60 percent of the runners on ahead of him . . . Stretch's .656 slugging average is the best in the majors since 1961 and the high mark in the National League since 1955 when Willie Mays posted a .659 mark . . . signed by scout Alex Pompez in 1955, Willie broke into the NL with a sensational 4-for-4 day against Philadelphia ace Robin Roberts on July 30, 1959, and went on to win the Rookie of the Year Award although playing less than half that season.

GAYLORD JACKSON PERRY

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born September 15, 1938, in Williamston, N.C. Height 6-4, Weight 205. Married; four children. Lives in San Carlos, California.

For the fourth successive season Gaylord posted a sub-3.00 ERA and lowered his career mark under that figure . . . always effective, but not always so lucky, Perry lost five times by a run (twice by 2-1) and three more times when the Giants were shut out . . . he tied with Detroit's Denny McLain for most innings pitched in the majors, 325, set a career high with 26 complete games, one behind staff leader Juan Marichal, and led the club in strikeouts while also posting the club's season high of 14 in his last start of 1969 . . . Gaylord holds the Giant club record of 15 strikeouts in a game, set on July 22, 1966, against the Phillies in Candlestick Park . . . Perry now ranks fourth among all-time Giant pitchers in strikeouts and ninth in complete games . . . signed to a bonus on the recommendation of the Giants' late scout, Tim Murchison . . . an all around athlete, starring in baseball, basketball and football at Williamston, N.C., High School . . . pitched a no-hitter over Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals, 1-0, on September 17, 1968 . . . toured military bases on a USO sponsored baseball trip last fall . . . hit his first major league home run on July 20, minutes after the first manned moon landing.

DAVID MARTIN RADER

CATCHER. Bats L, Throws R. Born December 26, 1948, in Claremore, Oklahoma. Height 5-11, Weight 165. Single. Lives in Bakersfield, California.

Despite having his 1969 season interrupted by military reserve duty, Dave improved greatly on defense, making only five errors in the 77 games he played at Amarillo . . . his batting average was disappointing in view of the fact that he makes contact (only 14 strikeouts in 236 at bats) and at times has shown power . . . was the Giants' No. 1 choice in the June, 1967 draft, signed by scout Dick Wilson . . . baseball and football star at South High School in Bakersfield.

RICHARD PAUL ROBERTSON

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born October 14, 1944 in Albany, California. Height 6-3, Weight 215. Married; one son. Lives in San Mateo, California.

A candidate for a starting place on the Giants' staff, even though his 1969 pitching was below previous year standards . . . control problems were an unsettling influence upon the season . . . a Giant starter in the early season, he won one and lost three, but his victory was a sparkling five hit, 3-0 shutout against the Pittsburgh Pirates . . . in Phoenix, later in the year, he won 3 and lost 2 . . . a powerful pitching equipment, and a return to his 1968 form when he was the Pacific Coast League's leading pitcher, would move him back into the Candlestick picture . . . a Santa Clara alumnus, he was the Giants' first pick in the 1965 Free Agent draft and was signed by Eddie Montague.
